Financial Interest

This document, if applicable, must accompany your manuscript before the publication process can begin.

Authors must describe any direct or indirect financial interest they may have in the subject matter of a submitted manuscript, and they must authorize Clinical Laboratory Science to publish this financial disclosure with the article if deemed appropriate.

Clinical Laboratory Science's financial disclosure policy is as follows:

“Each author shall describe any direct financial interest that the author has in the subject matter discussed in the submitted manuscript and any affiliation or financial involvement that the author has with or in any organization with a direct financial interest in the subject matter discussed in the submitted manuscript. Such information will be held in the confidence of the editor during the review process. If necessary, in the editor’s view, this information may be shared with the reviewers after discussion between the editor and the author. The author shall grant permission, upon initial submission of the manuscript, for Clinical Laboratory Science to publish the financial information described above or an appropriate summary thereof-with the manuscript.”
